

Farmers To Meet For Discussion Of Cotton Problems

Economical Use of Fertilizer Will be Main Topic At County Gatherings

To grow cotton economically it is necessary to fertilize; and with the limited acreage every farmer wants to grow all the cotton per acre that can be produced profitably.

Fertilizer is comparatively high in price, so it will pay to study your needs before investing good money in fertilizer this year.

To discuss fertilizer for cotton and other crops, the best varieties of cotton, and the turning of winter legumes, we are holding a series of meetings as shown below. I hope you will attend the one in your community.

Monday, March 13 — Dunnivant school, 9 a.m.; Vandiver School, 1 p.m.; Sterrett School, 3 p.m.

Tuesday, March 14 — Caldis School, 9 a.m.; Wallis School, 1 p.m.; Vincent School, 3 p.m.

Thursday, March 16 — Four-Mile School, 9 a.m.; Cross Roads School, 1 p.m.; Chelsea School, 3 p.m.

Friday, March 17 — Pelham Church, 9 a.m.; New Hope School, 1 p.m.; Horner School, 3 p.m.

Monday, March 20 — Dargin Church, 9 a.m.; Saginaw School, 1 p.m.; Siluria School, 3 p.m.

Tuesday, March 21 — Calera School, 9 a.m.; Montevallo Legion Hut, 1 p.m.; Maylene School, 3 p.m.

Father of J. P. Kelly Died in Choctaw Connty

John J. Kelly, age 86, father of J. P. Kelly, died last Friday at his home in Pennington, Choctaw County. He had been in ill health for several months, but his death came unexpectedly from a heart attack. He was feeling better than usual on the day before his sudden death.

Funeral services were conducted at the home. Burial was in the Ebenezer Cemetery near Pennington.

Surviving are two sons, Thomas Kelly of Pennington, and J. P. Kelly, cashier of the Merchants and Planters Bank, Montevallo; six daughters, Mrs. O. S. Tuttle, Pennington; Mrs. Galle Smith, Pennington; Mrs. Preston Burnette, Pennington; Mrs. Earle Britt, Jachin; Miss Mildred Kelly, a teacher at Magnolia; and Miss Mary Kelly, Pennington; ten grandchildren.

The many friends of Mr. Kelly in Montevallo sympathize with him in the loss of his father.

Mrs. Nannie Rhodes Buried Saturday

Mrs. Nannie Rhodes, age 85, died last Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Effie Payne, in Meridian, Miss. Funeral services were held at the Montevallo Baptist Church last Saturday, conducted by Dr. F. B. Pearson. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Rogan in charge.

Mrs. Rhodes was the wife of Wiley Rhodes. She was a member of the Large family, who were pioneer residents of Montevallo. Most of her life was spent here. The only survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Effie Payne and Mrs. Exie Phillips.

The brooder house should be disinfected, and the brick brooder checked over and repaired if necessary, so that you will be ready for the chicks.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Pearson will preach Sunday morning on "Deepening the Spiritual Life Through Corporate Worship." At the Sunday evening service Rev. DeWitt Matthews, Baptist Student Secretary at the University of Alabama, will speak. He will speak also on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at 7 p.m. We invite everyone to attend these services.

Alabama Represented On Wildlife Stamps

Of the more than 60 different animals, birds and fish pictured on the beautiful 1939 Wildlife Poster Stamps, Alabama has a full share. Prominent are the wild turkey, deer, opossum, bobcat, fox, raccoon, black bear, skunk, beaver, cardinal, waxwing, mourning dove, robin, tarpon, crappie, blue-gill, and black bass. The stamps will be distributed in this state by the Alabama Wildlife Federation, and they are now being mailed out to the various affiliated conservation clubs and councils, according to Tom Ford, Federation secretary. Revenue from sale of the sheets of 80 stamps at $1 a sheet, will be divided among the National Wildlife Federation, the State Federation, and the local conservation club. Sale of stamps is the Federation's chief means of financial support.

Dr. Edgar Givhan Represents State Alumni Association

Dr. Edgar G. Givhan, Jr., of Birmingham, was elected vice president of the Jefferson Medical College Alumni Association to represent the state of Alabama, at the association's annual meeting in Philadelphia on February 28. He was graduated with the class of 1928.

Dr. Henry K. Mohler, dean of the college, was elected president of the association, succeeding Dr. Thomas A. Shallow.

With a membership of 5,900, Jefferson has the largest alumni association of medical men in this country. One of our oldest medical colleges, Jefferson was founded in 1825 after its sponsors overcame severe opposition from those who felt that there was no need for another medical college.

MONTEVALLO LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. J. L. Appleton, Mrs. Fred Frost, Mrs. J. I. Reid, and Mrs. Lena Duran attended the banquet at the Tutwiler Hotel last Friday, given in honor of Mrs. James Morris, national president of the Legion Auxiliary.

Miss Lucille Cooper spent the week-end visiting relatives in Birmingham.

Mrs. Lena Duran had as her guests Sunday her son, Mr. Fred Duran, and his family of Montgomery.

Friends of Mrs. Ida Hendrick will be glad to learn she is doing nicely after an operation at Gorgas Hospital.

Mrs. Polly G. Lester of Montgomery spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gallo-way.

Miss Margaret Ward of Birmingham was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. G. K. Ward.

Mrs. P. M. Fancher spent the week-end with her son, Mr. R. M. Fancher, in Dogwood.

Miss Sallie Hooker made a business trip to Columbiana Saturday.

County Poultry Men To Meet With Ivey

There will be a meeting of poultry growers at the Wilsonville Community House, at 2 p.m., Wednesday, March 15.

Mr. John E. Ivey, poultry specialist from Auburn, will be with us to discuss brooding, feeding, and disease control of baby chicks, as well as feeding and management of the laying flock.

Just as we are getting in baby chicks all over the county, this is a very important meeting, and I hope every poultryman in the county will take time to attend. We want the ladies also at this meeting, as they usually care for the chicks. Don't forget the time and place.—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

4-H Clubs Work On Wildlife Week

Auburn, Ala.—4-H Clubs throughout the nation will again cooperate in National Wildlife Restoration Week activities and the sale of Wildlife Poster Stamps. T. A. Sims, 4-H Club leader, has issued a call for all 4-H Clubs in Alabama to take part in this national program, the purpose of which is to awaken the people to the condition of our country's natural and wildlife resources and bring to them a realization of the need for corrective action.

The National Wildlife Federation is an alliance of State Federations, whose affiliates include club women, youths, farmers, business men, and National Wildlife Restoration all groups concerned with wildlife resources.

Week, to be observed March 19 to 25, will be visually impressed upon the people of America by the second series of Wildlife Poster Stamps painted by outstanding artists. Eighty different species will be included on each sheet of stamps which are sold for $1.00 per sheet.

The proceeds from the sale of stamps are used to finance national, state, and local groups affiliated with the National Wildlife Federation in their legislative and educational programs to protect, conserve, and restore natural and wildlife resources.

Good cottonseed pays, and I want to urge you to get a few bushels of DPL-11A seed direct from the breeder to keep up the quality of seed in the county.

NEW SPORTSMEN'S CLUB IN SHELBY COUNTY

The Boottton Sportsmen's Association, with 327 paid members from several communities in Shelby County, is one of the newest and most active sportsmen's clubs in Alabama. A game preserve which ultimately will have 35,000 acres in northwestern Shelby, is the chief project of the association which has announced vigorous prosecution of all who violate association rules and game laws with respect to timber and wildlife. Earle Brasher is president of the new association.

In Memory Of W.C. Underwood

W. C. Underwood of Wilton, age 70 years, departed this life February 24, 1939. He was laid to rest in the Moore Cemetery. Brother Rich of Underwood delivered the funeral message. Rogan of Montevallo was in charge.

Mr. Underwood is survived by his widow; five daughters, Mrs. Carl Branner of Birmingham, Adie Mae Underwood of Wilton, Mrs. Henry Brantley, Mrs. C. D. Brantley of Maylene, Mrs. Wiley Tatum of Wilton; two sons, Hubbard Underwood of Calera, Braddie Underwood of Dogwood; one sister, Mrs. George Lawley of Aldrich; three brothers, Tom Underwood of Montgomery, Bob Underwood of Wilton, and Jim Underwood.

He was a member of the Oak Grove Baptist Church of Dogwood, and for many years he was a citizen of Ebenezer community. For 25 years he had suffered failing health, but he never lost his bright outlook upon life. No one could go away after talking with him without feeling he had received a great blessing. No greater tribute can be paid one than to say he loved his fellowman. Our hearts are filled with sympathy for the sorrowing relatives and friends but our loss is Heaven's gain. "God needed an angel, so he whispered, 'Come higher and enjoy the mansion thou hast gained.'" His memory still lives to inspire and draw us closer to God's Kingdom.

"Weep not, he's only sleeping, What he has sowed he now is reaping. The joys of Heaven at last he knows, Where comes no sorrow, sin or woes; And Jesus speaks in tones so sweet, On Resurrection morn you shall meet, To part no never, never more, On Heaven's peaceful happy shore."

—A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and deep appreciation to our friends, neighbors, and acquaintances for their kind interest, sympathy, and encouragement, and every helpful deed, during our recent experiences caused by the illness and death of our father.—The Day Children.

Tuberculosis Cases Total 201 In State

A total of 201 cases of tuberculosis were reported to the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the State Department of Health in January, one having been reported from Shelby County, according to a compilation of reports received by the Bureau.

The January total for the state as a whole exceeded the total of 173 cases for the previous month, but was less than the total of 209 cases reported in January, 1938.

Alabama's provisional total of 1,604 tuberculosis deaths for 1938 was described by members of the State Health Department staff as the smallest for a single year shown on the records of the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics, which extend to 1913.

Cou Urg Agent Farmers To Kudzu

Lauderdale States Reasons For Planting This Valuable Hay Crop

Do you need a hay equal in feed value to alfalfa? Do you need a hay crop which does not have to be seeded every year on prepared seed beds? Would some extra hay help you keep a few more livestock? Kudzu, a perennial legume, meets these requirements. Mowing need not interfere with working the cotton crop, picking, other farm operations, or with business. It does not have to be cut at any particular time. Furthermore, it furnishes valuable temporary grazing, can be set to stop gullies and control erosion.

Propagation: Set 2-year old or older crowns while dormant and before growth starts in the spring. A good crown has a bud and well developed fleshy roots 8 to 10 inches long. Obtain crowns locally if possible.

How to set: Prepare rows 10 feet apart by throwing together 5 or 6 furrows and open the row with the plow. Set crowns 6 feet apart in the furrows; carefully press soil around each crown, leaving bud just above the surface. Seven hundred and twenty-five crowns will be needed for the acre. If crowns are available, set 5 feet apart in 5-foot rows.

Fertilizer: Thoroughly mix with soil 500 pounds of basic slag. Use stable manure also, if available.

Gully control: In setting for gully control, prepare hills far enough from bank to prevent drying out. Set some crowns in the gullies.

Cultivation: Cultivate until vines cover the ground. Grow corn, peanuts, etc., between kudzu rows the first year.

When to use: Do not mow or graze until 2 years old or older and the ground is covered.—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Thomas D. Woods Buried Wednesday

The body of Thomas D. Woods, age 51, was brought here Wednesday from his home in Fort Mill, South Carolina, and buried in the Montevallo Cemetery, with Rogan in charge. Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Fred B. Pearson at the Baptist Church.

Mr. Woods died suddenly Monday at 10:30 a.m. at his desk in his office. He was engaged in the lumber business in South Carolina, where he had lived about 12 years. He was a native of this section of Alabama, the son of Rev. F. M. Woods, a widely known Baptist minister, who died several years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Laura Lyman Woods; one son, T. D., Jr.; two daughters, May Lyman and Frances Woods; four sisters, Miss Mamie Woods of Montevallo; Mrs. Alice Woods Perry, Mrs. Jim Lucas, and Mrs. Willie Johnson.

Active pallbearers were Francis Givhan, T. E. Watson, Morris Watson, Eddie Mahaffey, J. R. Hardy, and Milton Jeter. Honorary pallbearers were J. R. Lewis, Dr. C. T. Acker, W. J. Kennerly, G. W. Morgan, J. A. Brown, W. M. Jones-Williams, Dr. L. C. Parnell, E. H. Wills.

JOHN STEPHENS GRADUATES

John Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stephens, has completed his commercial training at the Chillicothe Business College, Chillicothe, Mo., and has been awarded his diploma. John completed his course of training with a perfect attendance record and his name will be placed on the permanent roll of honor which hangs in the Hall of Fame in Commerce Hall at the college.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

Just this week I read in the March issue of Holland's Magazine an article, "Streamlined Seguin, Texas," that I wish every citizen in Montevallo would read.

The article is too long to ask you to reproduce in your paper and perhaps the streamlining was too much for Montevallo to undertake, but it surely brings home the fact that "where there is a will, there is a way." Whether it be a desire or need for beautification, paving or recreation facilities. I would like to quote a paragraph or two from this article, that it might encourage us to go forward with our beautification and paving projects.

"When we streamline an automobile we so shape it that wind resistance is at a minimum. In other words, we 'fit form to function.' When we streamline a town we observe the same principle, and design it to provide its people with the things they want and need in the most attractive form.

"Seguin, Texas, is a classical example of an old town made modern. It is a significant illustration, because it is a typical town of not over seven thousand, whose population is not wealthy. There are no fortunes held by individuals, part of which might be donated to cause town improvement. So what has happened in Seguin can happen in any town whose people have vision, courage and determination necessary to carry forward a program.

"The story of accomplishments in any given town is largely a story of people, a few people, who have imagination, energy and courage. Whenever there is a new building, a new paved street, or any improvement, there must be some individual whose dynamic personality caused such work to be done, someone whose efforts brought others together in common purpose for the benefit of all. In the case of Seguin, the leader was Honorable Max Starcke, the mayor. Max, as most of his many friends know him, is one of the most civic-minded fellows you could ever hope to meet. He says he reverses the rule of most business men; he gives a little time to his personal business, and a lot of time to helping solve the problems of his town.

"Seguin has the policy of keeping the townspeople at large informed of what was going on. No project was undertaken, even though authorized and the money for it made available, until all the luncheon and civic clubs, church groups, and the general public were told about it. As a result, everyone felt that he, individually, had a part in developing his community.

"Seven years ago Seguin was just like a lot of other towns, with no park, no modern public building, few paved streets, and in general, with little that would either attract people to come there to establish residence, or keep youths from going to large cities offering recreation facilities." Montevallo?

Through the center of the town ran a small creek which was used as a dumping ground. (Montevallo?). It was the mayor who saw the need of cleaning it up, and with the aid of RFC labor, he set forth on the project. Please read this article in Holland's and find out what was done with this creek.

Citizens wanting paving pay the town a certain amount for a hundred foot front on a street forty feet between curbs. This includes graveling and the inverted-penetration system of asphalt application. Some fifteen to twenty miles of Seguin streets have been paved under this arrangement without the issuance of a single bond.

Now of course, we could not hope to have a $125,000 park or a $50,000 municipal building, or even twenty-five miles of paving, but we can beautify our creek and town and pave a few blocks.

No one will argue the point that

Seguin is now a better place in which to live and that the people really use the facilities. A report shows that last season $4,538.99 was taken by the swimming pool where admission is ten cents for children and twenty-five cents for adults; and $2,687.92 was received from the golf course which charges twenty-five cents for nine holes and fifty cents for eighteen holes.

Seguin has grown in population from five thousand to seven thousand in seven years. This pays dividends in more ways than one. Surely such a town with nearly one hundred acres in a park system, a trained recreation director, a qualified engineer to supervise the town's utilities, a model municipal building, and a score of other assets, stands as a practical demonstration of what can be done when citizens are determined and when they have proper leadership and guidance in their undertakings.—A Civic Minded Citizen.

STAY HOME AND GO PLACES--

When you weary of the same old round of daily life — when you crave new interests outside your everyday environment . . . pick up and go—by telephone! Call up some far-away friends—ones you'd love to hear from—for a chat-ty get-together. You'll enjoy a tingling thrill of adventure in these voice jaunts . . . you'll get new interests from outside your daily surroundings . . . refreshing enjoyment . . . and more downright pleasure than you ever dreamed you could for so little cost.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
INCORPORATED

$5 FOR TELLING WHAT YOU SEE BEYOND YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

One hundred $5 checks are offered by Alabama Power Company for the 100 best letters telling what, in its customers' opinion, they get for the amount of their electric bill. Your letter may be one of them. Every writer of a letter on the subject of "What I See Beyond My Electric Bill" will receive a 100-watt Mazda lamp bulb, so whether your letter is one of the hundred best or not, you'll get something for your effort.

THERE ARE NO STRINGS TIED TO THIS OFFER

You Need Not Buy Anything To Participate

Whether or not you've ever won anything in a contest, you can't lose in this one. Every participant will get a prize. All you do is write a letter, the same kind that you'd write a friend telling what, in your opinion, are the values you get for the modest amount of your electric bill each month.

Perhaps you'd choose to write about the benefits resulting from getting your electricity from a taxpayer instead of a tax-eater. Tax-paying Alabama Power Company contributes, through taxes, to better schools and prompt payment of teachers' salaries, improved highways, social improvement, law enforcement and other desirable governmental activities, industrial and rural development of Alabama and other benefits you may think of.

WRITE YOUR LETTER SOON

Don't hesitate just because you don't consider yourself a good letter-writer. Your opinions are what will count with the judges, not your ability as a fancy letter-writer. There is no age limit—boys and girls, men and women may write. The only requirement is that you or a member of your immediate family, at the address from which you write, be a customer of Alabama Power Company.

You may find some helpful suggestions in the booklet and contest folder which you may get at any Alabama Power Company office, or by writing to Dept. 319, Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Ala.

Fertilizer Need Of Strawberries Given

Auburn, Ala.—A crop such as the strawberry which lives throughout the year and occupies the ground for several years must necessarily be fertilized quite differently from such crops as Irish potatoes, beans, and cabbage that require only a short period for growth, says Prof. L. M. Ware, head of horticulture and forestry, Alabama Experiment Station.

The amount, the kind, and the rate of application of fertilizers should suit the needs of the crop. Strawberries need sufficient plant food in early spring to produce fruit; during the summer the plants need only enough plant food

Interest Rates On Agricultural Production Loans Reduced

Birmingham, Ala.—Interest rates on agricultural production loans handled by local Production Credit Associations have been reduced from 5 per cent to 4½ per cent, according to an announcement received by George L. Davis, administrative assistant of the National Emergency Council, from the Farm Credit Administration.

The reduction followed action of the boards of directors of the 12 Federal Intermediate Credit Banks by which the loans and discount rate of the banks was reduced to 1½ per cent per annum and was possible because the rate of interest charged by the local associations is related to the rate of discount charged by the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks.

The announcement recited that during the past five years the loan and discount rate of the Federal Intermediate Credit banks has been reduced from 3 per cent to the present rate. During the same period, earnings of the banks, after payment of all expenses and provision for reserves, amounted to $1,501,000. The banks obtain their lending funds through the issuance of debentures which are not guaranteed either as to principal or interest by the government.

The resultant reduction of interest rates for local Production Credit Associations, on a basis of the present volume of business, will mean a saving of approximately $800,000 this year to Production Credit Association members, it was announced. Interest rate reductions were effective as of February 24, 1939.

to maintain a healthy growth but not enough to encourage vigorous growth of weeds and grass; in the fall the plants need sufficient plant food, especially nitrogen, to stimulate the formation of fruit buds for the crop the following year. An application of 500 pounds per acre of a 6-8-4 fertilizer applied in February and 500 pounds of a 4-12-4 fertilizer applied in October will supply the reasonable requirements of the strawberry.

To apply 500 pounds per acre will require 4 pounds for each 100 feet of row. It is possible to apply all of the phosphorus and potash at one time with the nitrogen applied several times during the year. An application of 600 pounds of superphosphate and 100 pounds of muriate of potash per acre may be made either in June when the mats are being worked after the crop is harvested or in October. Nitrate of soda or ammonium sulfate should then be added separately in February and again in October. About 150 pounds of nitrate or 125 pounds of sulfate should be applied each time.

Caution should be observed not to apply fertilizers in concentrated bands over the plants, for plants will be damaged. The fertilizers should be scattered broadly over the matted bed and a small broom or brush used to remove the fertilizers that fall on foliage. A reasonable amount of nitrate of soda will not affect the quality of berries provided it is not applied too near the ripening period.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received from our many friends and relatives in the loss of our beloved husband and father, W. C. Underwood. — The Family, Mrs. W. C. Underwood, Miss Addie Mae Underwood, Mrs. Wiley Tatum, Mrs. Carl Branner, Mrs. Henry Brantley, Hubbard Underwood, Braddie Underwood.

When Alabama home demonstration women made 17,260 mattresses from August to January they almost doubled their goal of 10,000 homemade mattresses. More interesting for the cotton farmer is that hundreds of the mattresses were made for homes that had never had cotton mattresses before.
